A Glimpse at the Lighter Moments

The College Center or Snack Shop gaining the loss (money) of students during a run on the "junk." . . . Then there was that wonderfully short time during play rehearsal for relaxation . . . Friendship is always a major part of college . . . Some of the boys trying to help a friend get somewhere even if he has to carry him and his car . . . Don't forget the men who were here only for decoration . . . Get your face out of that watermelon so we can see you . . . Oh, it's "Martha" crammin' but not for exams . . . Betty still uses her come hither look . . . This is just a brief glimpse of our lighter moments.

DEDICATION

It is with deep respect and admiration that we dedicate this the 1949 Anchor to J. Y. Hamrick, able Professor of English, whose genial personality, friendly gaiety, warm and genuine interest in individual students, zest and enthusiasm for learning inspire us daily.

THE PRESIDENT

*"Bliss was it in that dawn to be alive
But to be young was very Heaven!"*

Today I have thumbed through my high school and college annuals. They are a magic link in the chain of memory to bring back the days and friends of yesteryear. This book will be just that to you; and in addition it will be an index finger pointing to another and richer day. May it always bring pleasant memories, and not regrets, to you.

CLASSES

Even our busy Sophomores have a little

Sophomores! Eager, expectant and filled with desire to make these college days at Gardner-Webb happy and successful in their college career. With anxiety they have awaited the day when they would walk through the arch, maybe for the last time, to receive their sheepskin and then to make their way forward—some to other colleges, others to work in different professions. But yet as they glance backward over these short years their thoughts wander over the many new friends they have made. The struggle and finally the reward to know they have fought a good fight and have been victorious.

Freshman Class

Oh, for the life of a Freshman! And what's a Freshman's life without a Sophomore? Forbid that we should harbor enmity because we had to amuse our "upper classman" by swallowing oysters and interrupting our classes. Yes, forget the time you made their bed at five o'clock in the morning, carried their onerous books, and gave them your "chow" to placate their wrath. Think instead of the time they helped you with your English or enlightened you on some of those innumerable Gardner-Webb rules. We still emit a faint greenish glow, but thanks to you Sophomores we're losing it rapidly!

Working, sweating, and worrying we have finally finished the year book. It is our sincere desire that each one of you may feel a warmth and pleasure when, years from now, you happen upon the '49 Anchor. Handle it with tenderness because the memories it contains are precious. Its theme of youth will refresh us when the book is ragged and we are old. Love and care for it because it is the index to our first college experiences.

International Relations Club

To bring about peace in a world torn with strife is the aim of the International Relations Club. It is our belief that this peace can be achieved only through education, mutual tolerance, and good will.

In addition to sponsoring such prominent speakers, the club also works diligently in other ways for the welfare of the underprivileged people of the world.

GIRLS WITH AN EYE TO THE FUTURE

Forty-seven girls with one purpose: to stimulate interest in and to acquaint themselves with opportunities in the field of home economics and to provide for fellowship among their classmates. This club is open to all students who are enrolled in home economics or who have had a previous course in home economics. The response to membership proves the keen interest in this field. The Evelyn Lytton Home Economics Club sponsors a canteen where the girls may buy refreshments after an evening of study. The Dramatics Club is an organization that is open to all of the students. The purpose of this club is to provide entertainment for the students and to teach the fundamentals of play production.

Already this year the Dramatics Club has presented three plays. "The Valiant" which was the first play, was of a serious nature. The second, "November's Child," was presented over stations WBBO and WOHS. The third, "Weep No More My Lady" was the major production of the first semester.

College Government Association

The most important organization on Gardner-Webb campus is the College Government Association which is the official representative body of the students. The primary and sole purpose of the officers of this organization is to serve the students. Three main divisions comprise the College Government Association: the Legislative Body which formulates the policy, rules, regulations, and laws; the Judicial Body which deals with all cases of discipline, and the House Council which determines policies affecting the respective resident halls. It is this organization that aids the freshman to adjust himself to the different phases of college life.

Radio at Gardner-Webb

Jonas Bridges, Freshman at Gardner-Webb, tunes up his instruments for the regular Friday afternoon broadcast.

Jim Spivey of Kings Mountain, North Carolina, gave one of the best performances of the year as Scrooge, Dickens' immortal Christmas Carol. This program was presented from the stage of the E. B. Hamrick auditorium.

The Gardner-Webb Glee Club presented the music background for the radio drama, Stephen Foster. At bottom Miss Emalyn Gamble instructor in voice and director of the Glee Club, at the microphone is Coach Revis Frye, chairman of the Radio Committee, and at the piano, Miss Shirley Smith instructor in violin.

Miss Audley Hartley, Mr. Bob Blanton, and Miss Sue Black present a program of popular music. Miss Hartley is a voice major. Mr. Blanton and Miss Black in addition to participating in Gardner-Webb broadcasts now have a fifteen minute weekly program over station WOHS Shelby.

Gardner-Webb has used its radio program in the main to present over the air a picture of life on college campus. Among the student organizations making use of the radio time have been the Dramatic Club, The Choir, The Glee Club, Baptist Student Union, International Relations Club, The Science Club Guidance Department and the Monogram Club.

The Science Club stresses the importance of natural sciences and mathematics to well rounded students. Its aim is to promote the ardent but clear-headed and unbiased research the world so badly needs. It is composed chiefly of those students who intend to major or minor in the natural sciences and who have outstanding scholastic records in all fields.

ATHLETICS

Football 1949

The Gardner-Webb football team of '49 did not make or break any world records, but they fought hard in victory and defeat.

The win and loss column showed a victory tag on 3 games while the loss list shows 5 losses and 1 tie. This record, as we said, is not outstanding, but the spirit and sportsmanship of these Bulldogs of '49 will stand out as a challenge to teams of future Bulldogs.

It is not possible to pick out one man and put him on a pedestal as the best player on the squad. Bob Humphrey was selected by his teammates as the most valuable player, and their choice was a wise one, but there were others who stood out during the year. One man is not a team; so we'll try to give you a little "inside" information of these Bulldogs of '49.

Bob Humphrey—180 pound All-State end from Shelby, North Carolina, is called "Sterling" by those who know him. He should be a gangster because he has always had trouble with Commercial Law. Wonderful driver??

WAYNE BRADBURN
Coach

Bob Neil—Big 210 pound tackle from Kings Mountain was co-captain of the team. He could always be depended on to question actions of the referees.

John Arndt—165 pound halfback from Mt. Holly, North Carolina, made All-State and could really lug the leather. John was always the guinea pig in psychology class.

Max Fish—170 pound halfback from Gastonia, North Carolina, was one of the fastest Bulldogs, but he has one weakness—women!!

HUMPHREY

REVIS FRYE
Coach

H. L. "Buddy" Gantt—175 pound halfback was high scorer for the year. Buddy, who is from Lancaster, South Carolina, has a great collection of souvenirs to show for his many trips this year.

Frank Arnette—Center, is also from Lancaster, South Carolina, and could be depended on to stop all opponents that came his way. He also owns half interest in Gantt's souvenir collection.

Bill Cashion—big fullback, better known as "Egghead," claims Kings Mountain, North Carolina as his stomping grounds. "Egg" could be seen warming up on a stone wall before the games.

Walter Oakes—190 pound tackle, develops into one of the better tackles on the team. Walt loved to hit that ball carrier on a kick-off.

BOB NEIL
Co-Captain

John T. "Red" Painter from Gastonia, North Carolina teamed up with Humphrey to form the best two defensive ends in the state. Red always forgot half of his gear—poor old Hoffman.

Dwight Ware—another product of Kings Mountain. At his fullback spot, Ware really tore a line to bits. Ware was called Gregory Peck because of his way with the women.

Norris "Pee Wee" Jones was the third coach of the team. Pee Wee's favorite saying, "I'm ready coach."

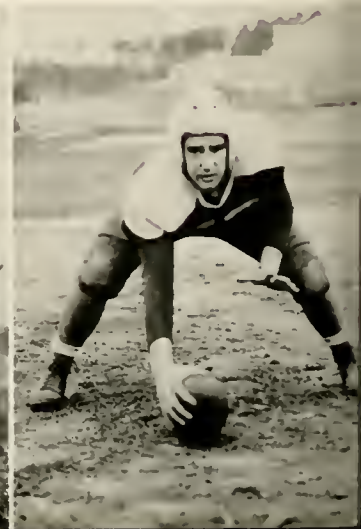

Tyree Kiser—180 pound center from Bessemer City was the only man on the team who would take Coach's orders. P.S.—Tyree was the only married man on the squad—wonder if that has anything to do with it??

Managers

Ted "Red Seal" Guthrie is from Gaffney, South Carolina and was a whale of a guard on defense. Ted charms the girls with his crooning. Favorite past time was riding "Sap" Harmon.

Gene Abercrombie, 160 pound guard from Shelby, North Carolina was outstanding on offensive blocking.

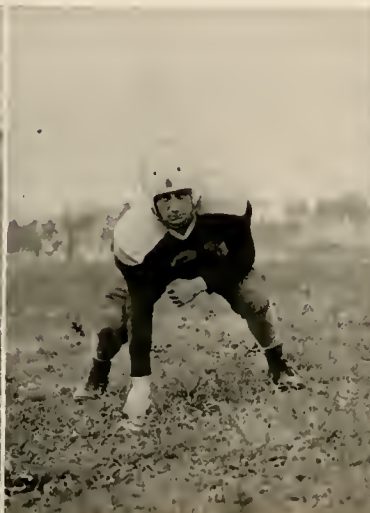

Lee Roy Biggerstaff, 180 pound tackle from Charlotte, North Carolina was one of the tackles who saw action only in reserve sports—should be better next year.

Jack Cannon, center from Shelby was good on offensive blocking.

Richard "Bull" Foster, a big 225 pound tackle from Kings Mountain showed great promise after overcoming injuries which held him back during early part of year.

Walter Harmon, 145 pound "flea back," was the trickiest runner on team, could fake a man out of his shoes. Walt also comes from Kings Mountain.

Bob Hoffman, 200 pound tackle from Gastonia, could always be seen with paper and pencil at the games. Was a supply room for "Red" Painter.

James Hullender another of the Kings Mountain boys played a bang-up game at end. Also looked good with the gals.

Buddy Medlin is a neighbor to Hullender hailing from good old Kings Mountain. Medlin played good ball all year. Favorite saying, "I got my man."

David Peeler, a 170 pound halfback from Morganton, North Carolina was a fast dependable man. Always had a good supply of comic books.

Irvin Shook suffered a broken collar bone which limited his playing to first half of the season. His sensational quick kicking saved the team several times.

Robert Stegall, 185 pound guard from Gastonia could always be depended on for good all-round playing. Stegall always gripes about any and everything in sight.

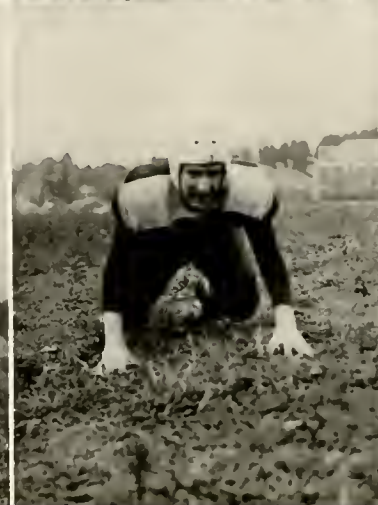

Leonard Keever, hurt during first few weeks of practice, did not play during the regular season but was there in spirit.

Edgar "Punchy" Teague hails from Fayetteville, North Carolina, was always a good boy to have in at that guard slot.

Scott Uzell, 180 pound guard from Black Mountain, North Carolina played good ball. Scott was great on defense, as a matter of fact he went good on de-bench also. Could always be heard saying "Giggy."

Richard Walker, quarter back hails from Shelby, North Carolina. He was a good field general. Dick was the quietest man on the squad—one among many.

Jim Whittington from Salisbury, North Carolina was team's ace passer. Whit "collected" football helmets as a hobby.

Bob Williams, 170 pound end from Morganton, North Carolina was really a pass snagger. However he had many outside interests—especially in Shelby.

Bill "Sap" Harmon, the last one of the Kings Mountain boys. Bill played guard and was a good defense. You can guess why he was called "Sap."

Irvin "Punk" Willis, manager from Ridgecrest, North Carolina. Punk was great on taping ankles and carrying water. He's good on the basketball court too.

James "Hook" Moon, manager from Franklinville, North Carolina.—Don't ask where it is. Favorite saying was "shut up Hoffman." Good Government student—excellent "ear banger."

Well, this was your team of 1949. What do you think of them?

These were a fine bunch of boys, and Gardner-Webb should be proud to point to them and say, "They play for G.-W."

According to all indications, next year should be one of the geatest for the athletic department of Gardner-Webb College. Only time will tell; so we'll wait.

Basketball

The basketball season at Gardner-Webb was a big success. The Bulldogs finished second in the Western Division and fourth in the state.

Journeying to the state tournament with a 11-5 record, the Bulldogs knocked off Wingate 51-31 in the first game. The Bulldogs went down before a great Campbell team 61-41 the second night. In the consolation game, the Lees-McRae "Bobcats" beat the Bulldogs 66-53 to finish up the great season of '49.

The G. W. boys led by "Punk" Willis and "Hook" Moon won 9 games in a row to get into the tournament.

"Punk" Willis made the All-State team from G. W. He also was second in the conference scoring with 235 points.

"Hook" Moon was somehow overlooked by the All-State team, but was third in the conference with 209 points.

Yes, '49 will be remembered as a great year in basketball at Gardner-Webb!
